

The axes omit values because the measured coefficients belong to the source study.